DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's response to the office action of 11/07/08 is acknowledged on 05/07/09.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 9, 10, 12, and 13 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hsieh (US Patent No. 6,280,366).

Hsieh discloses a platform (1), a first coplanar foot support member that is fixed (see left element 2 to be fixed between elements 15 and 16 as shown on Figs. 2 and 6B), a second coplanar foot support member (right side element 2 as shown in Fig. 6B), means for biasing (23), sliding means (111), elasticized biasing means (in column 2 line 24 it is disclosed that element 23 is an elastic rope), and the combination of roller 21 and track 111 is considered as roller track assembly.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 11 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hsieh in view of Rodibaugh (US Patent No. 5,224,913).

Hsieh discloses the invention as recited above but fails to teach if the biasing means could be a spring. The use of a biasing means as a spring is old and Rodibaugh is one reference that teaches such type of biasing means (16). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the Hsieh device by replacing the biasing means with a spring in order to reduce the manufacturing cost of the device.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments of 05/07/09 have been considered but it is not found persuasive. Applicant argues that the primary reference (US Patent No. 6,280,366 to Hsieh) fails to teach for the first and second coplanar foot support members to be adjacent to each other absent of externally applied force. It should be noted that the term "adjacent" is broader than side by side. For example, the Merriam-Webster online dictionary discloses the meaning of "adjacent" as "not distant" and "Nearby". As disclosed above the coplanar foot support members of the Hsieh device (2) clearly could be considered as being adjacent.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 14-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 17-19 are allowed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
